Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. has presented an innovation in antiquities and numismatics for some time now. The system is simple. When you want an antiquity or coin in the sale, just bid the estimated price by phone or mail. We will send you the antiquity or coin immediately. No waiting for the closing of the sale. Any and all antiquities or coins not sold before the closing date will be sent to the highest bidder on September 16, 1998.

EXAMPLE—You bid estimate on an item valued at $100.00 and if your bid is the 1st to reach us, you will receive the item immediately. If on the other hand, you bid $75.00 on the same item and are still the high bidder at the end of the sale, the item will be mailed to you on the closing date, September 16, 1998.

If you are ever in the area, stop in to see us! Of course, it's best to call first. Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. reserves the right to refuse any ridiculous bids.

4. EGYPT, PTOLEMY III; 246-221 BC, Octodrachm, 27.72g. Svoronos-603. Ptolemy II & Arsinoe II / Ptolemy I & Berenike I. EF 7850
5. NERO CLAUDIUS DRUSUS (father of Claudius, died 9 BC); Aureus, 7.70g. BM 99, C 3 (80 Fr). OBV: NERO CLAUDIVS DRVSVS GERMANICVS IMP, head left wearing oak wreath. RX: DE GERMANIS, Vexillum behind crossed shields, spears and trumpets. The rev. shows arms captured "From the Germans" (DE GERMANIS) by Drusus, who achieved notable successes against that enemy under Augustus and died during a campaign against them. His coins were all struck by his son Claudius (41-54 AD). The style of this portrait is much more realistic and far less hardened than normal. Many of the portraits border on being barbaric. Near Mint State 12000
6. NERO; 54-68 AD, Aureus, Rome, 65-66 AD, 7.28g. BM 82 pl. 39, 25 (same dies), C 257 (40 Fr). RX: ROMA, Roma seated left on cuirass, holding Victory and parazonium; she places right foot on helmet; to right of cuirass, greave and two shields. Red toning characteristic of the Bosco Reale Hoard, which contained a great number of aurei from Augustus to the end of Vespasian and must have been lost as a result of the eruption of Vesuvius in 79 AD. (BMC I, p. lxxvii, referring to Revue numismatique, 1895, p.574). Excellent portrait of Nero. Choice EF 5800
7. TITUS as CAESAR; 69-79 AD, Aureus, Rome, 74 AD, 7.26g. BM153, C-165 corr. (40 Fr). OBV: T CAESAR IMP VESP, Head laureate r. RX: PONTIF TR POT, Fortuna standing l. on garlanded base decorated w. ram's heads, holding rudder and cornucopia. Nearly EF with good lustre 3350
8. ELAGABALUS; 218-222 AD, Aureus, Rome, 221-222 AD, 6.42g. C 59 (Copenhagen, 200 Fr), BM 209 note (quoting Cohen), Hess 1935 Trau 2413 (same dies as ours, holed), a third specimen, with variant obverse type (draped and cuirassed) and from a different reverse die, is in Brussels ex Rollin and Feuadent 1887, d'Amécourt 456, illustrated by M. Thirion, Les Monnaies d'Elagabale, pl. 4, 253 (wrongly stated to be the Copenhagen specimen) and on the cover. Obv: IMP ANTONINVS PIVS AVG, Bust laureate with "horn" and draped r., seen from front. RX: INVICTVS SACERDOS AVG, Emperor laureate and in Syrian priestly dress (sleeves, sash around waist drawn through and hanging down from large round clasp, cloak over l. shoulder) standing l. sacrificing from patera over tripod altar and holding branch; star in l. field above emperor's patera. Fourth recorded specimen. Aurei of Elagabalus with the "horn" on the obverse portrait (221-222 AD) are extremely rare. Obviously very few aurei were produced during the last nine months or so of the reign. The only other known aureus with "horn" is that with rev. PM TRP V COS IIII PP Emperor in consular quadriga, BM 271 pl.90,20, also only recorded in about 4 specimens. The "horn" is

9. SEVERUS ALEXANDER; 222-235 AD, Aureus, Rome, 230 AD, 6.29g. BM 620 (ex Montagu Sale, 1896, Lot 561), not in Cohen, cf. C-395 (Denarius). RX: PM TRP VIII COS III PP, Emperor as Romulus striding r. holding spear and trophy over shoulder. FDC 6000
10. GORDIAN III; 238-244 AD, Aureus, Rome, 240-243 AD, 5.18g. RIC 101 (R), C 119 (Paris, 100 Fr). RX: LAETITIA AVG N Laetitia standing left holding wreath and anchor. Probably from c.242-243 AD, near the end of the issue in question, to judge from the sideburns extending to the emperor's jawline. Reverse somewhat weakly struck, but Mint State 4800
11. CONSTANTINE I; 307-337 AD, Solidus, Aquileia, 319 AD, 4.50g. RX: FELIX PROCESSVS COS IIIII AVG N, Togate emperor standing left holding globe and scepter. RIC 28 (citing one spec. only, Trau 3875, which is from the same dies as ours, but holed). The second recorded specimen of the only coin to record Constantine's fifth consulship of 319 AD. According to Bruun, RIC p. 388, this coin indicates that Constantine must have entered on his fifth consulship in Aquileia, but this conclusion is not accepted by T.D. Barnes, The New Empire of Diocletian and Constantine p.74, note 119. The consular numeral IIIII instead of V on the reverse is extraordinary, and apparently unparalleled on coins; the indexes of RIC VI-X, in any case, reveal nothing similar on the Roman coinage of 294-491 AD. Surviving inscriptions on stone, however, "show a preference for the additive method" of numeration, i.e. IIII instead of IV, "and this preference is occasionally carried to the extent of ignoring the signs V and L (so IIIIIviri often for Vviri and such forms as XXXXXX for LX)", exactly as on our coin. See The Oxford Classical Dictionary, 2nd. ed., p. 742. This is only the second recorded gold coin that celebrates the fifth consulship of Constantine the Great, and the only one without a hole. EF 14500
12. MAGNUS MAXIMUS; 383-388 AD, Solidus, Trier, 4.41g. RIC 76 (R), C 4 (50 Fr). Ex NFA Sale, 12 March 1983, Lot 472 (Graded FDC by NFA). Obv: DN MAG MAXIMVS PF AVG, Bust rosette - diademed, draped and cuirassed right. RX: RESTITVTOR REI PVBLICAE SMTR, Emperor standing holding labarum and Victory on globe. Some scraping on the leg of the emperor standing on the reverse. This scraping was present when NFA graded this coin FDC, our grade Mint State 5000

Gold coins of Artavasdus have always been considered along with those of Alexander to be the classic rarities of the entire Byzantine series. Of the 3 types of solidi, a total of only about 45 coins are recorded, most of which repose in museum collections. Some obv. die rust and the nose of Artavasdus is not struck up well. On the rev. the portrait of his son Nicephorus is very well struck, save a little weakness on the l. side of the crown which obliterates the letters "FO" in the legend. This is one of the best coins of this emperor available to collectors. Mint State 40000

	LARISSA The facing heads of the fountain nymph Larissa, though abundant, have always been one of the really beautiful and affordable coins in the Greek series. When I began, I always wanted to make a collection of them, though there seem to be little point as there were only 3 reverse types and the obverses were all the same. Some years ago the early and experimental heads of the fountain nymph came available. This was quite exciting, as many of these coins were signed and there is a tremendous variation in the way the artist creating the dies envisioned the fountain nymph. Many were signed, some in the name "ΣΙΜΟ" and others simply with initials such as AI. Some of the dies in this experimental series failed miserably while others exceeded all expectations. Having studied these for several years, I am now selling this collection. Offered here are some of the better pieces. The chronology of these coins was determined in an article by Cathy Lorber. It is a chronology I can't dispute.

Alexander the Tyrant, born of either Pannonian peasants or obscurely sprung from Phrygia, entered the army and served in it until he became pro-prefect of Africa in his old age. In 308 AD he revolted against Maxentius whom he had thrown off his allegiance with and was proclaimed Emperor by his men at Carthage. For 3 years Alexander maintained his power until 311 AD when he was defeated by Maxentius, taken prisoner and put to the death. His coins which were minted in Africa in gold and bronze carry Latin legends and are of great rarity.

Maximus was proclaimed Emperor in Barcelona, Spain, on the death of Constans II in 409 AD by the general Gerontius. After the death of Gerontius in 411 AD, Maximus was pardoned by Honorius and was permitted to return into private life. RX: S-C to either side of helmeted bust of Roma r., all within laurel wreath. Not in BM, Copenhagen, Glasgow, Cambridge (McClean) Weber, or Lindgren. According to Richard McAlee and Frank Kovacs, however, a number of other specimens of this coin are known and it has been attributed to Philippopolis in Arabia on the basis of its style and reverse type. Philippopolis was the birthplace of Philip I, who honored it after his accession by making it a Roman colony and renaming it after himself. The coins of this city that name the mint are all of Philip's reign, including those of his father Divus Marinus who was not commemorated by any other mint. The usual reverse type of these coins is a seated or standing figure of the helmeted Roma flanked by the letters SC. On this smaller denomination we find Roma's head only, also with SC, but the mint's name is omitted. Since the coins are in the style of Antioch in Syria and even share obverse dies with coins of Antioch, this issue would appear to have been produced for Philippopolis at the mint of Antioch: see K. Butcher, Num. Chron. 1988, pp. 70-72. Fine+ 350

"The Art And Science Of Numismatics"

We have recently decided to give our business a subtitle – "The Art and Science of Numismatics". At first, it was "The Science of Numismatics". This is because all of numismatics with all of our combined huffing and puffing is far too small to be considered an industry. On the other side, to call us a hobby, or sellers of collectibles seem too trivial. Certainly, the coins that some collectors have are collectibles, if that, and some collectors would not consider us more than a passing hobby. To many collectors though, numismatics is a highly important study of man's art, culture, beliefs and how they changed. The interrelationship between coins within one issue or how they may relate to other coins, issued by different rulers, or by different cities, can provide some exciting discoveries into the history of man over the last 2500 years.

Yet, having said all of this, a very important element was missing and I couldn't figure out what it was. Suddenly, I realized that it was something I cared about very much – art. The artistic quality of the coin, its beauty, for many collectors, far outstrips historical importance or rarity. In my own case, I pride myself in being able to recognize and obtain coins of great artistic merit. The very best moment of all is when rarity, beauty and historical importance come together in a single piece. Therefore, the subtitle of our firm after 34 years in business, is "The Art and Science of Numismatics". I feel this description of ourselves and what we do is holistic.
